

DETACHERS

Enabling Commerce through Innovation

CONTROLTEK has built a line of magnetic detachers that not only conform to industry standards but in most cases exceed the required gauss to disengage standard, super, and hyper locks and deactivate tags. Detachers are a product that are often similar from supplier to supplier and in fact in most cases are produced on the same assembly lines and simply stamped with the logo of one company or another. The detachers that CONTROLTEK offers were all selected specifically for their superior magnet strength, quality construction, as well as ease of installation and use. They are available in multiple form factors to fit even the most challenging of retail environments and provide the tools necessary to move past loss prevention and facilitate the sale.
